Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was discussed: The material disclosed by the reference is not the same as that instantly claimed. It is not made from the same starting material as applicants' material, i.e. a halogenated aluminum, and while the reference discloses amorphous structure and X-ray diffraction, it does not teach or suggest that there are any peaks in the diffraction pattern exhibited by this material. These and other differences would lead one of ordinary skill in the art to conclude that the material of the reference differs from that instantly claimed..
